Jerry Wang, Global President of Faraday Future, to deliver main stage presentation and investor Q&A at the J.P. Morgan Auto Investor Conference in New York City on August 12, 2025.

Jerry Wang is scheduled to present on Tuesday, August 12, 2025, at 4:50 PM ET, and will provide an update on the Company's strategic roadmap, including progress across its AI-driven mobility initiatives, key product developments such as the recently launched FX Super One, and priorities for the remainder of 2025. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session with investors.

A live webcast of the presentation will be available; access details will be shared on the Company's investor relations website closer to the event. A replay of the webcast will also be posted to the website following the conclusion of the conference.

Participation in the J.P. Morgan Auto Conference reflects Faraday Future's ongoing engagement with the investment community and underscores its commitment to transparency, innovation, and long-term value creation.

"We look forward to participating in the J.P. Morgan Auto Conference and introducing the FF and FX brands to a highly engaged audience of investors and industry leaders," said Jerry Wang, Global President of Faraday Future. "This conference provides an important platform to deepen our investor dialogue, reinforce our 'Stockholders First' philosophy, and showcase the innovation and execution behind our recent milestones. As we continue building momentum, we remain focused on delivering sustainable growth, creating long-term value for our stockholders, and advancing the strategic priorities that lie ahead."
