From Abu Dhabi to the northern emirates, each location visited underscored FF's alignment with the UAE's continued advancement toward the future of EAI mobility.

The FX Super One and FF 91 2.0 activities across the UAE follow a series of recent milestones for the Company in the region. On October 28, FF held the Middle East final launch event for the FX Super One in Dubai, announcing soccer legend Andrés Iniesta as the model's first global owner and Developer Co-Creation Officer. On November 27, FF hosted a Co-Creation Delivery Ceremony in Dubai to deliver the first FX Super One to Mr. Iniesta, marking the beginning of the FX Super One's delivery phase in the Middle East.

In parallel, FF and FX recently participated in the Ras Al Khaimah Investment & Business Summit, announcing plans to work with Ras Al Khaimah Innovation City to co-create an EAI intelligent mobility ecosystem in the region.

These developments collectively represent the continued execution of FF and FX's Global Automotive Bridge Strategy and mark further progress in the Company's Middle East Three-Pole Strategy.
