HSL srl. supplies intelligent lighting systems and high-performance components for leading exclusive car brands worldwide. With its agile manufacturing, HSL enables fast market entries with a strong focus on individualization and technical perfection. Equipped with knowledgeable automotive veterans that cover every facet of exterior lighting, HSL will work with FF throughout the production process to ensure a premium and innovative exterior lighting display.

"The exterior lights play a key role in the vehicle's overall aesthetic, which is why we partnered with a distinguished supplier that has deep experience in premium exterior lighting," said Page Beermann, Design Director at Faraday Future. "Details such as the FF 91's rear 3D crystal-like array tend to be one of the last things finished in a car development program, but is one of the first things customers notice."

HSL will supply the Exterior Lighting for the FF 91. Complementing the future-forward design of the vehicle, the rear of the FF 91 will display a unique, 3D crystal-like array that stands apart from anything else on the road. Additionally, each individual LED is programmable, enabling customized lighting animations that can be uploaded to the vehicle at any time, with preset animations available at launch.

"Outfitting the FF 91 with our premium and innovative exterior lighting ensures its unique position among top luxury vehicles," said Mirko Bonvecchio, CTO at HSL. "The future forward design and the possible personalization of the lighting design is outstanding."

HSL's experience and commitment to the FF 91 program will contribute to the on-schedule delivery of the vehicle in July 2022. The FF 91 Futurist Alliance Edition and FF 91 Futurist models represent the next generation of intelligent, internet-driven electric vehicles (EV).
